

Siena LLC
3233 K Street, NW
Washington, DC 20007

Siena Reclaimed Wood Product Guide

Siena Reclaimed Wood features a beautiful variety of harvested wood grains that retain all of the luster from its previous use in the Eastern United States. Every plank is uniquely characterized in wear and appearance, varying from knots and nail holes to saw marks and faded grains. Siena Reclaimed Wood is not only naturally beautiful but brings years of history through the wood for truly authentic wood floors and walls.

Siena Reclaimed Wood is offered in three distinct looks: Rugged, Smooth, and Original Surface. The Rugged floor options retain all of the natural character inherent in the repurposed wood. Nail holes and dramatic saw marks bring out the personality of the material in its imperfections. Smooth flooring is achieved by planing the original surface, creating a more even surface, while retaining the inherent imperfections of reclaimed wood, then using six different finishes, each highlighting and emphasizing different aspects in the wood tones. The Wall collection features the Original Surface Barnwood as well as three additional colors in faded paint, paying homage to the very barns from which the wood was harvested.

Benefits and Features:

- ❖ All wood is 100% post-consumer material, reclaimed from sources throughout the Eastern United States
- ❖ Species is Oak for floors, mixed hard and softwoods for walls
- ❖ Janka Hardness Score is approximately 1300 for floors
- ❖ Variety of smokes and oiled finishes to bring out the character in the wood
- ❖ Each board will vary in both size and character, effortlessly showcasing a natural look
- ❖ Natural imperfections will hide new wear as the product ages
- ❖ Solid hardwood construction for greater tolerance to Relative Humidity spans
- ❖ Made to order in the Eastern United States
- ❖ Install glue down or nail/staple

Expect to see variations in each piece including but not limited to: mineral staining, tool marks, weathering, discoloration, rough-sawn, cracking, mixed grain patterns and/or nail holes. These imperfections are a large part of natural aesthetic of a reclaimed wood and should be embraced and highlighted. For more visual of color variations go to Siena website or contact the Siena team at sales@sienausa.com, for more information

With more and more wood-appearance patterns showing up in resilient flooring, the Reclaimed Wood line represents a natural response towards true natural beauty in wood, highlighting rather than de-emphasizing variation and imperfection.

The Siena Reclaimed Wood provides a stand-out complement of rugged durability to the existing sleek and sophisticated looks in the Siena line. Contrasting the hand-hewn visuals with the contemporary corporate offerings in Siena creates a modern yet classic tone that Siena is excited to bring to the market.